

In Immortal Desires, the vampires of Crimson Beech are being killed by an unknown foe, and PARKER (MC, human, 18 years old) and her love interests Gabe (18 in appearance, vampire, 'good boy/girl' archetype) and Cas (18 in appearance, vampire, 'bad boy/girl' archetype) have left town to track down the culprits. They find a camp full of vampires, and in order to help Gabe and Cas infiltrate, Parker asks to drink some of their blood – a forbidden act that temporarily imbues a human with heightened vampire senses and strength. She can only handle a small amount, which creates romantic tension as she must decide which love interest to drink from.

(In game, Parker can be male, female, or nonbinary; Gabe and Cas can both be male or female. They are written as female, female, and male, respectively, in this script.)

Event: Cas lets out a scoff and turns on her heel, while Gabe holds your gaze with a solemn nod.

Gabe: I'll take good care of you, I promise.

Event: He raises a wrist to his mouth, wincing a little as his fangs sink in. Then he steps closer, extending his bleeding wrist toward you.

Gabe: Just be careful.

Parker [HAPPY]: You're the one who should be careful. What if I get a taste for this?

Event: Gabe's smile is only halfhearted, and your own drops away as you take his arm, reality settling in.

Parker [SURPRISED]: (I'm... I'm really gonna drink his blood.)

Event: With his gaze searing into you, you lean in and place your mouth against the open wound, warm blood immediately coating your lips.

Parker [SURPRISED]: (It's so strong!)

Gabe [SURPRISED]: C... Careful.

Event: But despite his words, when you raise your eyes to meet his, his pupils are dilated and his cheeks are flushed, his throat bobbing as he swallows.

Event: And as you suck more blood into your mouth, the sensation of it washes over you, warming you, making your heart race...
